

Learning Advocates

Initiative

Would your company like to promote training to the team but feels constrained by time or having the right skills?

Would your company benefit from having an employee with the skills to advise colleagues in training, funding and career progression?

The Workplace Learning Advocates Initiative will train an employee to be able to fulfill this task. And what's more, it's a fully funded service!

Learning Advocates will:

- Interview colleagues and advise on their individual learning needs.
- Identify free and subsidised training opportunities for your company.
- Promote a learning culture within the workplace - at all levels
- Help to remove traditional barriers to learning

Learning Advocates benefits:

- Workforce performance improved through better trained staff
- Staff retention improved through a learning culture
- Gives you access to a wider network of beneficial contacts
- Keeps employers up to date with training and funding opportunities
- Helps reduce the workload on the HR department or manager
- A better trained workforce can contribute to productivity/growth

To train as a Workplace Learning Advocate employees attend a 2 day accredited Information & Advice course.

The next Learning Advocates courses will be held on:

Thursday 23rd February & Thursday 1st March at The Tickled Trout Hotel, Preston

Wednesday 7th March & Wednesday 14th March at Gateshead International Business Centre, Gateshead

All tuition fees/course materials/enrolment fees FREE to non-unionised companies.
Disability/interpretation support provided. Pre-booking essential
